Description

Perfect for cold-weather riding, this jacket's exterior protects from the elements while being breathable with a heat-retaining interior. When the warm summer days are behind you, no need to be sad. The softshell LT Enerblock jacket was designed to allow you to enjoy every moment of fall, winter and spring. A true all-rounder, this jacket designed for cold-weather sports will take you through the first and last miles of your cycling season, and then through all the cross-country skiing and snowshoeing paths you'll explore over the winter. This insulated windbreaker will keep you nice and warm as it evacuates moisture. Its numerous pockets allow you to carry everything you need for your next adventure, whether it's an exploration hike or training for your next challenge.
